yes    no    The count number I presented to CHSAA for 2018-2020 cycle was 264. The CDE count number sent in by our district for Lake County High School was 307.

Only 264 students at LCHS are eligible for CHSAA competition for 2017-2018 school year and beyond. The additional 43 students are part of the DOOR Alternative program that is housed at LCHS.

This alternative program has always been a part of LCHS count in years past, however, this year we are transitioning this program to an AEC (Alternative Education Campus) and the students are not eligible to compete in CHSAA activities.

I was unable to get the official CDE count number of 307 until after the deadline and had given an approximate estimate.

When I found out this CDE number of 307, I contacted Rhonda and have been in communication with her on next steps.

Ultimately, I believe the 264 count number is accurate and if given a choice, would like to keep I there.

Rationale    Last year LCSD Board of Education passed a new graduation pathway for our alternative program. This changed the program from credit recovery to competency based. In years past they have always been a part of our CHSAA count as they could prove CHSAA eligibility (LCHS is under option A). At the beginning of this year, we began our transition of making our alternative program its own alternative campus. Part of this transition is the competency based curriculum. This consists of online curriculum and competency tests. With this new program and lack of credits, we informed the students in this program they would not be eligible to compete in CHSAA at the beginning of this year. We plan to keep this standard for the program. With this new transition, I have not included these 43 students on any eligibility lists. I had asked our District Office for a count number several times so I could meet CHSAA count deadline. In order to get a number in for CLOC, I was forced to give the estimate of 264. When I received the email from our district the second week in November with 307 as the CDE number, I was surprised and confused. When I asked for an explanation and why it was 264, they informed me that until our alternative program gets an official school code, those students must be reported for funding purposes to CDE under the LCHS school code.

Pros    If it is decided to stay with 264 count, Lake County High School will be in the appropriate size classification. 264 is the accurate number for eligible students at LCHS for 2018-2020 cycle. Regardless of decision, the 43 students in alternative program will not be eligible to compete.

Cons    None.
