

with high school baseball becoming more relevant and competitive enables players to want to continue to play for their high school teams.

Cons

Additional costs include umpires and travel. Weather could be a challenge in the spring.